Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors
TransAm Securities, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of TransAm Securities, Inc. as of June 30, 2006 and 2005, and the related statements of operations, stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of TransAm Securities, Inc. as of June 30, 2006 and 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information included in Schedule 1 is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2006 and 2005

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Organization

TransAm Securities, Inc. (the "Company") is a securities broker/dealer licensed with the National Association of Securities Dealers Regulation, Inc. The primary activity has been sales of mutual funds, variable annuities, and limited partnership interests sponsored by unrelated third parties. The Company was incorporated under the laws of the state of Florida on November 21, 1986 as a securities broker-dealer.

(b) Revenue Recognition

Commission income is recorded as revenue on the date the sale of the related financial product is made.

(c) Income Taxes

The Company uses the asset and liability method of accounting for deferred taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that included the enactment date.

(d) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

(e) Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers its money market accounts with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Notes to Financial Statements

(2) Related Party Transactions

The Company does not own office equipment or employ administrative support personnel. Office space, equipment, and administrative support personnel are provided by Certified Financial Group, Inc. ("CFG"). On August 11, 2005, the Company entered into a marketing agreement with Certified Financial Group, Inc. ("CFG") to provide these services. The agreement shall continue in effect until terminated by either party. CFG is related through common management. Management, marketing, and administrative fees charged by CFG to the Company for the years ended June 30, 2006 and 2005 totaled approximately $519,000 and $536,000, respectively. At June 30, 2005, other assets included $20,000 of prepaid fees paid to CFG. At June 30, 2006, no fees were prepaid to CFG.

(3) Broker-Dealer Regulation of the Securities Exchange Act

The Company is subject to rule 15c3-1(a)(2) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The rule provides that a broker-dealer shall have and maintain net capital at the greater of $5,000 or 15 to 1 ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, if it does not hold funds or securities for, or owe money or securities to, customers; and does not carry accounts of, or for, customers. As of June 30, 2006 and 2005, the Company's minimum required net capital amounted to $7,205 and $17,556, respectively, which is the minimum amount necessary to comply with the 15 to 1 ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital. As of June 30, 2006 and 2005, the net capital of the Company was $50,543 and $54,095, respectively, and the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 2.14 and 4.87 to 1, respectively.

The Company is exempt from making computations of amounts on deposit in the Special Reserve Bank Account for the Exclusive Benefit of Customers under the provision of paragraph (k) of rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The Company has no liabilities, which are subordinated to the claims of general creditors.

The Company is subject to the reporting requirements of rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which requires that certain brokers and dealers file annual statements of financial condition with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company has met this requirement by filing form X-17A-5 for the period ended June 30, 2006, with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

TRANSAM SECURITIES, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

(4) Income Taxes

The differences in the computation of net income (loss) for income tax reporting purposes and financial reporting purposes are immaterial. Income tax expense differs from the amounts computed by applying the U.S. federal income tax rate of 34% primarily due to the tax rate differential. Income tax expense (benefit) for the years ended June 30, 2006 and 2005 consists of:

	Current	Deferred
2006:
Federal	$ (4,347)	(169)
State	-	(1,656)
	$ (4,347)	(1,825)
2005:

Auditor's Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

To the Board of Directors
TransAm, Securities, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of TransAm Securities, Inc. for the year ended June 30, 2006, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregated debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- (1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
- (2) Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
- (3) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of internal control to future periods is subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level, the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at June 30, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, and any other regulatory agencies which rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
